GRACE

OBJECTIVE

... by proposing project work within the scope of the Eco-Schools programme and others, namely in response to Grace – Responsible Business Association's challenge.

- The challenge was launched in each of the classes participating in the sixth semester of the degree in Management during classes in the Ethics and Social Responsibility curricular unit
- 109 students out of a total of 124 students enrolled in the course were involved
- Initial explanation about the Eco-Schools Program and the GRACE Academy
- Classes divided into groups of four to analyze possible proposals and decide what work they would like to work on
- The decision of each group is indicated on the Moodle Platform in its own space
- The process is repeated in each class

METHODOLOGY

The development of the work includes the following phases:

- 1st phase – Identification of the topic to be worked on and group members: February 9, 2024
- 2nd Phase – Development of work February 10th to April 12th 2024
- 3rd phase – First evaluation of work and improvement changes (until the date agreed for presentation – dates between April 13th and May 6th, according to the date defined for presentation)
- 4th phase – Presentation and participation in the discussion of the work on the dates indicated in the assessment plan, following prior instructions from the teacher - dates between April 22nd and May 8th, according to the date defined for oral presentation by each group.

AT THE MOMENT

The groups are carrying out presentations and oral discussions about the work

IN THE NEXT WEEKS

In the coming weeks, a questionnaire will be administered to each student about their involvement in group work and the development of their skills

FINAL CONSIDERATIONS

Project work allows students to have active learning experiences, seeking to place the student at the center of the learning process, promoting active participation, critical thinking and the practical application of knowledge.

Instead of just passively absorbing information, students are invited to solve problems, take part in projects, work in groups to solve problems and take responsibility for their learning.

In this way, the aim is to contribute to the training of young leaders for sustainable development, enabling them to seek innovative solutions and implement positive changes.
